RUTH FINLEY, PUBLISHER

August 4, 2014

Dear Fashion Calendar Subscribers,

I'm sure that many of you have seen the Friday, July 25th article in Women's Wear Daily, which announced that I have decided to sell the Fashion Calendar to the CFDA (Council of Fashion Designers of America). I wanted to reach out to each of you personally to reassure you that, while ownership of the Fashion Calendar will change, the service that the Calendar has provided to the fashion industry over the last 65 years under my leadership will continue and be improved upon under the guidance of Steven Kolb and the CFDA.

I have been working closely with Steven and his staff in scheduling Fashion Weeks over the last several years, and this collaborative effort has grown stronger over the last several Fashion Weeks, so I anticipate that the transition of Fashion Calendar into the CFDA office will be very smooth. This transition will not occur until October 1st, so all activity until then, including all scheduling of events for September 2014 Fashion Week, will be handled through my office as always.

After October 1st, the Fashion Calendar office will move to CFDA headquarters, but all of our subscribers will still receive the same personal service and attention that they have always had. The Fashion Calendar will still be available both in printed and online versions, and all markets and events will continue to be scheduled and covered by Fashion Calendar.

After October 1st, I plan to remain actively involved in the Fashion Calendar as a consultant and advisor to the CFDA – hopefully for many years – so you will still be able to call me anytime. Also, Mary Hackley will be joining the CFDA from my staff to continue directing the day-to-day operations of the Fashion Calendar.

On a personal note, my greatest pleasure in business has always been the personal relationships that I have formed with several generations of industry leaders in design, retail, media, public relations and all of the related fashion industry fields. As I pass the torch of leadership for the Fashion Calendar, I want to thank all of you for your support and friendship over all of these years.

As we get closer to October, we will give you contact information for the new Fashion Calendar office at the CFDA, but meanwhile, it's business as usual! I look forward to talking with many of you over the summer as we get ready for the September Fashion Week.

With warm regards,

Ruth
